

Modern Slavery Statement

The Ecology Centre is committed to ensuring that modern slavery and human trafficking have no place in our organization or in any of our supply chains. We are dedicated to upholding the highest standards of ethics and integrity, and we strive to make a positive impact on society by supporting vulnerable individuals and communities. This Modern Slavery Statement outlines the steps we have taken to identify and address the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking within our operations and supply chains.

The Ecology Centre is a registered SCIO charity operating in the United Kingdom. Our mission is to provide both educational and volunteering opportunities, focusing on environmental issues. We work closely with a range of stakeholders, including volunteers, donors, suppliers, and partners, to achieve our charitable objectives.

We are fully committed to preventing modern slavery and human trafficking within our organization. We recognize that modern slavery can take various forms, including forced labour, debt bondage, human trafficking, and child labour. We are determined to create an environment that promotes transparency, accountability, and respect for human rights.

To ensure compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015, we have implemented the following measures:

1. Supplier Code of Conduct:

We expect our suppliers and contractors to share our commitment to combatting modern slavery.

2. We ensure that all relevant staff members understand their responsibilities and are equipped to identify and respond to potential cases of modern slavery.

This Modern Slavery Statement has been approved by The Ecology Centre's senior management and is reviewed annually to ensure its ongoing relevance and effectiveness.
